Jochen Ressel's
handwritting

The interpretation of the handwritting yielded the following result:

Jochen Ressel is very controlled and disciplined and has a pronounced sense of order.

He is sensual, warm-hearted, cosy and imaginative.

On the whole, he appears calm and uninterested, but when he is convinced of something, he surprises those around him with his exuberant and enthusiastic behaviour.

He has a protective instinct. This quality is somewhat clouded by a tendency to dominate others, which is why this protectiveness cannot be classified as merely altruistic.

Jochen Ressel is an artist in life: full of ideas, productive and creative, he overcomes problems. Sometimes his way of dealing with the environment seems somewhat theatrical.

Jochen Ressel values a basic distance from his fellow human beings. Even good colleagues don't need to know everything about him.

He strives to help other people as much as possible.

Jochen Ressel is very much concerned about justice and always tries to stand up for others.

He is a very humorous person and tries not to hurt anyone with this humour.
